

Doug and Donna STAMPER Your Missionaries In KENYA

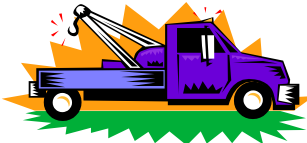

October 2004

Dear Friends,

Trial Of Metal

It was a beautiful Labor Day Monday. We left Des Moines, Iowa early, anticipating a nice 550-mile drive to Oklahoma City where we planned to spend the night. We reached the edge of Wichita, and decided to stop for dinner. As I approached the ahead of us. When I tried to move refused. We pushed the van that the transmission had failed. were back on the road, but it cost us Need Your Help. Our home church which we are thankful; but ... -- Maybe you can help!? Thanks so much for your prayers for our safety.

tollbooth, we had to stop for a vehicle forward to pay my toll, the vehicle through the tollbooth, and discovered After 2 'wonderful' days in Wichita, we almost $2,700 to get going again. We gave $1,000 towards this need, for

Trial Of Medicine

Dad came back to the States in September for his next round of tests to follow-up on his cancer. The prognosis was not good – cancer has developed on his remaining kidney. He has undergone treatment, and the doctors are optimistic, but he will have to stay in the U.S. for 7 months until they can decide if the cancer is still spreading. Please pray for Dad and Mom: they are still trusting God, but are also weary with the setback in Dad's health.

Trial Of Maturity

Some really good-news from Kenya has come through my parents -- the church problems we have faced for the past several years have gotten worse. WHAT A BLESSING. Well, the good part is that the men of the church have come to Dad and told him that they were wrong and Dad and I were right about the source of those problems. They admitted that they did not tell the whole truth because they thought it was best to withhold some things for the good of the church. Now, they are ready to tell the WHOLE truth, which will allow us to do the RIGHT thing. I am confident that this new desire to do the right thing will bring about some positive changes in the ministry. Pray for these men, and their pastor (me), as we deal with these problems, that God will be pleased with the final outcome.

For souls in Kenya,

Doug and Donna
